

Evaluation of Blood Brain Barrier Integrity and Structural Abnormalities in MPS IIIB Patients Using Multimodal Magnetic Resonance Imaging

Birmingham, , United Kingdom

The purpose of the study is to characterize structural abnormalities in the brain and the integrity of the blood brain barrier in patients with mucopolysaccharidosis type IIIB (MPS IIIB).